Year B Homilies and sermons by Fr. Tommy Lane

These homilies were delivered in parishes in Ireland. Faced with death, life might seem absurd and meaningless. ... When we find our peace in God, when we become friends of God, when we live with God's love in our hearts, then we have peace. That is why our first reading said the Lord will wipe away the tears from every cheek. (Isa 25:8) Why ...

Homilies — The Augustinians

This is the nature of God, a God who loves us so much. He gives us the opportunity to be thankful when nothing about our circumstances gives us motivation. My friends, that is the very definition of faith. If we praised God only on the good days, only in the best of circumstances, it would not be faith at all.

Fr Martin's Daily Homilies & Reflections

St. Paul gives us a kind of hierarchy of God's plan that may help us to understand why there is suffering. God's master plan is designed around three big objectives: First, He wants us to be saved. Salvation is the highest good for humans, because making that happen is the reason He gave His only begotten Son to death.

Welcome to St Patrick Catholic Community. We are a community of Christian Disciples in Mission seeking to know, love, and serve God. We gather to hear God's Word, feast at the table of the Lord, and then be sent forth empowered by the Holy Spirit.

Welcome - St. Patrick Catholic Community

'Death was not God's doing, he takes no pleasure in the extinction of the living. To be - for this he created all. Death, we are told, is the result of that primeval disobedient choice of our first parents. But even though we die, death is not an annihilation. God formed us to be imperishable, he made us in the image of his own nature.
